

2026 Page Annual Conference

Dr. Martin Böhringer, CEO & Founder, Staffbase SE

Dr. Martin Böhringer is the co-founder and CEO of Staffbase, the first AI-native employee experience platform that has revolutionized the way companies engage with their employees.

Connecting around 1,500 companies worldwide, Staffbase works with many of the world's leading organizations including Adidas, Alaska Airlines, Audi, Blue Apron, and DHL. Böhringer is a career entrepreneur, starting his first company, Hojoki, in 2011 after a stint at IBM and Siemens before co-founding Staffbase in 2014.

Böhringer is a dedicated advocate for the importance of employee communication in modern companies, giving regular lectures at international conferences such as The World Economic Forum and the Hinterland of Things Conference, as well as VOICES by Staffbase, the largest internal communications event in Europe.

Böhringer's vision is to promote collaboration and employee engagement worldwide through technological innovations. Böhringer lives in Chemnitz, Saxony, Germany, with his wife Tina and their three children.